Background

Section 908(b)(1) of the Trade Sanctions Reform and Export Enhancement Act of 2000, Pub. L. 106-387, prohibits U.S. persons from providing payment or financing terms for authorized sales of agricultural items to Cuba or any person in Cuba other than through "payment of cash in advance" or certain financing by third-country financial institutions. Last fall, U.S. financial institutions stopped payments that were in process and requested guidance from the Treasury as to whether the term required the seller to receive payment before shipping the goods from the United States or before delivering the goods to the Cuban purchaser.

To mitigate the immediate impact on the transfer of such payments, OFAC adopted an interim policy of issuing specific licenses that authorized the unblocking of such payments pending the issuance of further guidance clarifying the meaning of the term "payment of cash in advance." OFAC created this specific licensing policy to ensure the Cuban people did not experience a disruption in agricultural shipments to Cuba and to avoid any unnecessary disruption of U.S. business.

With this final rule, OFAC is amending paragraph (a)(2) of § 515.533 of the CACR to clarify that the term "payment of cash in advance" means that payment is received by the seller or the seller's agent prior to shipment of the goods from the port at which they are loaded. This conforms to the common understanding of the term in international trade finance. In order to continue to avoid a disruption in agricultural shipments to Cuba, OFAC is amending paragraph (d) of § 515.533 to provide a general license authorizing the processing of payments received for certain exports to Cuba that are shipped prior to receipt of payment for a limited time. This general license only applies when the goods are shipped from the port at which they are loaded on or before March 24, 2005 and when payment is received by a U.S. banking institution on or before March 24, 2005 and prior to transfer of title to, and control of, the goods to the Cuban purchaser.

Public Participation

Because the CACR involve a foreign affairs function, the provisions of Executive Order 12866 and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) (the "APA") requiring notice of proposed rulemaking, opportunity for public participation, and delay in effective date are inapplicable. Because no notice of proposed rulemaking is required for this rule, the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601-612) does not apply.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The collections of information related to the CACR are contained in 31 CFR part 501 (the "Reporting, Procedures and Penalties Regulations"). Pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507), those collections of information have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 1505-0164. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless the collection of information displays a valid control number.
