Petitions for Exemption

To assist the FAA in analysis of the safety impact of these petitions, commenters should provide information and data that relate to the equipment, procedural practices, alternatives, and aeromedical factors involved in granting such an exemption. In particular, the FAA is interested in receiving data and information relating to the following issues:

- The risk of oxygen deficiency when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 250.
- Aircraft vessel reliability.
- Human physiology.
- Life support equipment capabilities vs. aircraft operating altitude performance capability.
- Crew emergency training and passenger protection.
- Potential failure modes that would require the use of emergency breathing equipment.
- Human response times in the event of decompression.

The FAA is also interested in receiving input on what alternative actions could be taken that would provide an equivalent level of safety.

Docket No.: FAA-2009-1217.

Petitioner: FedEx Express.

Section of 14 CFR Affected:
§ 121.333(c)(3).

Description of Relief Sought

FedEx Express seeks an exemption from 14 CFR 121.333(c)(3) which requires that if for any reason at any time it is necessary for one pilot to leave his station at the controls of the airplane when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 250, the remaining pilot at the controls shall put on and use his oxygen mask until the other pilot has returned to his duty station. An exemption would allow one pilot to leave his or her station at the controls of the airplane when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 250, while the remaining pilot at the controls shall remove his or her oxygen mask from the stowage unit and have it in his or her lap until the other pilot has returned to his or her duty station. The petitioner believes that granting this exemption will mitigate the potential exposure for flight crewmembers to contract H1N1.

Docket No.: FAA-2009-0966.

Petitioner: FedEx Express and Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA).

Section of 14 CFR Affected:
§ 121.333(c)(3).

Description of Relief Sought

FedEx Express and ALPA seeks temporary suspension of Section 121.333(c)(3) which would allow one pilot to leave his (her) station at the controls of the airplane when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 250.
