Proposed Project

“Youth Knowledge, Attitudes, and Feedback to Inform Choose Respect Implementation” (OMB no. 0920–0816 exp. 6/30/2012)—Revision—National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Background and Brief Description

A revision of approved OMB# 0920–0816 is requested to reflect adjustments in the age of youth who will participate in the focus group studies and surveys (11–14 will become 11–18). The revision requests permission to ask knowledge and attitude questions at some of the focus groups.

Over a three-year period, NCIPC seeks to understand youths’ (ages 11 to 18) knowledge and attitudes regarding healthy and unhealthy relationships, and obtain their feedback regarding message development/placement, creative executions, appropriate partners, and other similar issues, to inform ongoing implementation and evaluation of the Choose Respect campaign, an initiative intended to promote youth awareness of and participation in healthy dating relationships. Communication research indicates that campaign planning implementation must employ a consumer-oriented approach to ensure that program messages/materials, and their placement, can successfully gain the attention of and resonate with the intended audience. To that end, the NCIPC proposes conducting further planning, implementation, and evaluation research that enlists the involvement and support of youth. The proposed information collection will inform message and materials development and provide interim and ongoing feedback to campaign planners regarding the implementation and progress of the campaign.

The proposed data collection will enlist geographically, culturally/ racially/ethnically, and socio-economically diverse groups of young people to complete: (1) Ten-minute online surveys, with 200 respondents, up to four times per year; and (2) up to 36 in-person focus groups, with up to eight participants each (or more smaller discussion groups with fewer people per group), twice per year. Online surveys will reduce the potential burden for young people as Web-based formats are convenient and consistent with the way they communicate and spend their leisure time.

Online surveys—Each Web-based survey will involve a different group of tweens/teens. The burden table shows time to screen parents and youth, as well as the actual time to complete the survey (rows 4–6).

In-person focus groups—First and second focus groups will involve different groups of young people. The focus groups will be segmented by age and gender, as indicated. Other variables for segmentation may include, but not be limited to, geography, language, and culture/race/ethnicity. The burden table shows time to screen parents and youth, as well as the actual time for focus groups and a waiting room survey (rows 1–3). The assumption is that two parental contacts will be needed to successfully recruit one respondent for each type of study. There are no costs to respondents other than their time.

Administration for Children and Families

Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request

Title: Cross-Site Evaluation of the Children’s Bureau Grantee.

Cluster: Supporting Evidence-Based Home Visiting Programs to Prevent Child Maltreatment (EBHV).

OMB No.: New Collection.

Description

The Administration for Children and Families (ACE), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), is proposing this cross-site evaluation data collection activity to identify successful strategies for adopting, implementing, and sustaining high-quality home visitation programs to prevent child maltreatment. An evaluation study will address four domains: (1) Systems change to develop infrastructure, (2) fidelity to evidence-based models, (3) costs of home visiting programs, and (4) family and child outcomes (via a review of grantee analysis reports). A process study will focus on the broader grant initiative to understand how programs plan and develop the infrastructure needed to support home visitation services and how they ensure service quality.

Information will be collected through biennial site visits, web based data entry, a data quality progress table, a relationship questionnaire completed by participants and home visitors, and a grantee-partner network survey. In particular, site visits will include interviews with key grantee staff and
