

(subject firm). The determination was issued on December 9, 2010. The Department's Notice of Determination was published in the Federal Register on January 3, 2011 (76 FR 182). The workers supply customer care call services.

The negative determination was based on the findings that the worker separations are not attributable to increased imports or a shift of services to a foreign country. Rather, the investigation established that the worker separations are attributable to the workers' firm shifting customer care call services to other facilities within the United States. The investigation also revealed the firm is not a supplier or downstream producer to a firm with a TAA-certified worker group.

In the request for reconsideration, the petitioners alleged that the subject firm has shifted services to a foreign country.

The Department has carefully reviewed the request for reconsideration and the existing record, and has determined that the Department will conduct further investigation to determine if the petitioning workers meet the eligibility requirements of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended.

Conclusion

After careful review of the application, I conclude that the claim is of sufficient weight to justify reconsideration of the U.S. Department of Labor's prior decision. The application is, therefore, granted.

Signed at Washington, DC, this 21st day of January, 2011.

International Business Machines (IBM), Software Group Business Unit, Optim Data Studio Tools QA, San Jose, CA; Notice of Affirmative Determination Regarding Application for Reconsideration

By application dated November 29, 2010, a worker and a state workforce official requested administrative reconsideration of the Department of Labor's negative determination regarding eligibility to apply for Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA), applicable to workers and former workers of the subject firm. The denial notice was signed on October 29, 2010, and was published in the Federal Register on November 17, 2010 (75 FR 70296).

The negative determination of the TAA petition filed on behalf of workers at International Business Machines (IBM), Software Group Business Unit, Optim Data Studio Tools QA, San Jose, California was based on the finding that that Criterion (1) has not been met because fewer than three workers were separated from Optim Data Studio Tools QA and further separations are not threatened.

In the request for reconsideration the petitioner stated that there were three more additional IBM employees working on the relevant product within the Data Studio Tools QA on a part-time basis and that the development for this product was shifted to a foreign country.

The Department has carefully reviewed the request for reconsideration and the existing record, and has determined that the Department will conduct further investigation to determine if the petitioning workers meet the eligibility requirements of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended.

Sandy Alexander; Clifton, NJ; Notice of Affirmative Determination Regarding Application for Reconsideration

By application dated January 6, 2011, by a petitioner requested administrative reconsideration of the negative determination regarding workers' eligibility to apply for Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) applicable to workers and former workers of Sandy Alexander, Clifton, New Jersey (subject firm). The determination was issued on November 24, 2010. The Department's Notice of Determination was published in the Federal Register on December 8, 2010 (75 FR 76489). The workers are engaged in activities related to the production of printed materials.

The negative determination was based on the findings that the petitioning worker group did not meet the eligibility criteria set forth in the Trade Act of 1974, as amended.

In the request for reconsideration, the petitioner supplied new information regarding an alleged shift in production to China.

The Department has carefully reviewed the request for reconsideration and the existing record, and has determined that the Department will conduct further investigation to determine if the petitioning workers meet the eligibility requirements of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended.

Conclusion

After careful review of the application, I conclude that the claim is of sufficient weight to justify reconsideration of the U.S. Department of Labor's prior decision. The application is, therefore, granted.

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended ("Act"), 19 U.S.C. 2273, the Department of Labor issued a Certification of Eligibility to Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance on March 3, 2010, applicable to workers of SunGard Higher Education, Inc., Malvern, Pennsylvania. The Department's notice of determination was published in the Federal Register on April 23, 2010 (75 FR 21361).

At the request of State agency, the Department reviewed the certification for workers of the subject firm. The workers are engaged in employment related to the supply of computer systems design and support services for colleges and universities.

New information shows that worker separations have occurred involving off-site employees of the Development Division, the Consulting Practices Division and the Actionline Division of SunGard Higher Education, Inc., Malvern, Pennsylvania. Employees working off-site across the United States are under the control of the subject firm and the supply of computer systems design and support services for the subject firm.

The intent of the Department's certification is to include all workers of the subject firm who were adversely affected by shift in services of employment related to the supply of computer systems design and support services to India.

Based on these findings, the Department is amending this certification to include employees of the subject firm's Malvern, Pennsylvania, facility working off-site across the United States.

The amended notice applicable to TA-W-72,972, TA-W-72972A, and TA-W-72,972B, are hereby issued as follows:

All workers of SunGard Higher Education, Inc., Development Division, including on-site leased workers of Intuitive, including off-site workers across the United States, Malvern, Pennsylvania (TA-W-72,972); SunGard Higher Education, Inc., Consulting Practices
