Subpart D—Resident Management Corporations Operating Subsidy

SOURCE: 59 FR 43644, Aug. 24, 1994, unless otherwise noted.

§ 990.401 Calculation of operating subsidy.

Operating subsidy will be calculated separately for any project managed by a resident management corporation. This subsidy computation will be the same as the separate computation made for the balance of the projects in the PHA in accordance with this part, with the following exceptions:

(a) The project managed by a resident management corporation will have an Allowable Expense Level based on the actual expenses for the project in the fiscal year immediately preceding management under this subpart. These expenditures will include the project's share of any expenses which are overhead or centralized HA expenditures. The expenses must represent a normal year's expenditures for the project, and must exclude all expenditures which are not normal fiscal year expenditures as to amount or as to the purpose for which expended. Documentation of this expense level must be presented with the project budget and approved by HUD. Any project expenditures funded from a source of income other than operating subsidies or income generated by the locally owned public housing program will be excluded from the subsidy calculation. For budget years after the first budget year under management by the resident management corporation, the Allowable Expense Level will be calculated as it is for all other projects in accordance with § 990.105(e)(4).

(b) The resident management corporation project will estimate dwelling rental income based on the rent roll of the project immediately preceding the assumption of management responsibility under this subpart, increased by the estimate of inflation of tenant income used in calculating PFS subsidy.

(c) The resident management corporation will exclude, from its estimate of other income, any increased income directly generated by activities by the corporation or facilities operated by the corporation.

(d) Any reduction in the subsidy of a HA that occurs as a result of fraud, waste, or mismanagement by the HA shall not affect the subsidy calculation for the resident management corporation project.

[59 FR 43644, Aug. 24, 1994, as amended at 61 FR 17542, Apr. 19, 1996]

§ 990.402 Calculation of total income and preparation of operating budget.

(a) Subject to § 990.403, the amount of funds provided by a HA to a project managed by a resident management corporation under this subpart may not be reduced during the three-year period beginning on February 5, 1988 or on such later date as a resident management corporation first assumes management responsibility for the project.

(b) For purposes of determining the amount of funds provided to a project under § 990.402(a) of this section, the provision of technical assistance by the HA to the resident management corporation will not be included.

(c) The resident management corporation and the HA must submit a separate operating budget, including the calculation of operating subsidy eligibility in accordance with § 990.401, for the project managed by a resident management corporation to HUD for approval. This budget will reflect all project expenditures and will identify which expenditures are related to the responsibilities of the resident management corporation and which are related to the functions which will continue to be performed by the HA.

§ 990.403

24 CFR Ch. IX (4-1-04 Edition)

(d) Each project or part of a project that is operating in accordance with the ACC amendment relating to this subpart and in accordance with a contract vesting maintenance responsibilities in the resident management corporation will have transferred, into a sub-account of the operating reserve of the host HA, an operating reserve. Where all maintenance responsibilities for the resident-managed project are the responsibility of the corporation, the amount of the reserve made available to projects under this subpart will be the per unit cost amount available to the HA operating reserve, exclusive of all inventories, prepaids and receivables (at the end of the HA fiscal year preceding implementation), multiplied by the number of units in the project operated in accordance with the provisions of this subpart. Where some, but not all, maintenance responsibilities are vested in the resident management corporation, the contract may provide for an appropriately reduced portion of the operating reserve to be transferred into the corporation's sub-account.

(e) The use of the reserve will be subject to all administrative procedures applicable to the conventionally owned public housing program. Any expenditure of funds from the reserve will be for eligible expenditures which are incorporated into an operating budget subject to approval by HUD.

(f) Investment of funds held in the reserve will be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 4 of the Financial Management Handbook, 7476.1 REV.1 and interest generated will be included in the calculation of operating subsidy in accordance with this part.

§ 990.403 Adjustments to total income.

(a) Operating subsidy calculated in accordance with § 964.401 of this chapter will reflect changes in inflation, utility rates and consumption, and changes in the number of units in the resident management project.

(b) In addition to the amount of income derived from the project (from sources such as rents and charges) and the operating subsidy calculated in accordance with § 990.401 of this subpart, the contract may specify that income be provided to the project from other sources of income of the HA.

(c) The following conditions may not affect the amounts to be provided to a project managed by a resident management corporation under this subpart:

(1) Any reduction in the total income of a HA that occurs as a result of fraud, waste, or mismanagement by the HA.

(2) Any change in the total income of a HA that occurs as a result of project-specific characteristics that are not shared by the project managed by the corporation under this subpart.

§ 990.404 Retention of excess revenues.

(a) Any income generated by a resident management corporation that exceeds the income estimated for the income category involved as specified in the RMC's management contract must be excluded in subsequent years in calculating:

(1) The operating subsidy provided to a HA under part 990, subpart A.

(2) The funds provided by the HA to the resident management corporation.

(b) The management contract must specify the amount of income expected to be derived from the project (from sources such as rents and charges) and the amount of income to be provided to the project from the other sources of income of the HA (such as operating subsidy under part 990, subpart A, interest income, administrative fees, and rents). These income estimates must be calculated consistent with HUD's administrative instructions. Income estimates may provide for proration of anticipated project income between the corporation and the PHA, based upon the management and other project-associated responsibilities (if any) that are to be retained by the PHA under the contract.

§ 990.405 Use of retained revenues.

Any revenues retained by a resident management corporation under § 990.404 of this subpart may only be used for
