

§ 102-73.230 What is the maximum lease term that a Federal agency may agree to when it has been delegated lease acquisition authority from GSA?

Pursuant to GSA's long-term authority contained in section 210(h)(1) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, (40 U.S.C. 490(h)(1)), agencies delegated the authorities outlined herein may enter into leases for the term specified in the delegation. In those cases where agency special purposes space delegations include the authority to acquire unimproved land, the land may be leased only on a fiscal year basis.

§ 102-73.235 What policy must Federal agencies follow to acquire official parking spaces?

Federal agencies that need parking must utilize available Government-owned or leased facilities. Federal agencies must make inquiries regarding availability of such Government-controlled space to GSA regional offices and document such inquiries. If no suitable Government-controlled facilities are available, an agency may use its own procurement authority to acquire parking by service contract.

Subpart C—Acquisition by Purchase or Condemnation

BUILDINGS

§ 102-73.240 When may Federal agencies consider purchase of buildings?

Agencies may consider purchase of buildings on a case-by-case basis when one or more of the following conditions exist:

- (a) It is economically more beneficial to own and manage the property;
- (b) There is a long-term need for the property;
- (c) The property is an existing building, or a building nearing completion, that can be purchased and occupied within a reasonable time; or
- (d) When otherwise in the best interests of the Government.

§ 102-73.245 Are agencies required to adhere to the policies for locating Federal facilities when purchasing buildings?

Yes, when purchasing buildings, agencies must comply with the location policies in this part and part 102-83 of this chapter.

§ 102-73.250 What factors must executive agencies consider when purchasing sites?

Agencies must locate proposed Federal buildings on sites that are most advantageous to the United States. Executive agencies must consider factors such as whether the site will contribute to economy and efficiency in the construction, maintenance, and operation of the individual building, and how the proposed site relates to the Government's total space needs in the community. Prior to acquiring, constructing, or leasing buildings (or sites for such buildings), Federal agencies must use, to the maximum extent feasible, historic properties available to the agency. In site selections, executive agencies must consider Executive Orders 12072 (3 CFR, 1978 Comp., p. 213) and 13006 (40 U.S.C. 601a note). In addition, executive agencies must consider all of the following:

- (a) Maximum utilization of Government-owned land (including excess land) whenever it is adequate, economically adaptable to requirements and properly located, where such use is consistent with the provisions of part 102-75, subpart B, of this chapter.
- (b) A site adjacent to or in the proximity of an existing Federal building which is well located and is to be retained for long-term occupancy.
- (c) The environmental condition of proposed sites prior to purchase. The sites must be free from contamination, unless it is otherwise determined to be in the best interests of the Government to purchase a contaminated site (e.g., reuse of a site under an established "Brownfields" program).
- (d) Purchase options to secure the future availability of a site.
- (e) All applicable location policies in this part and part 102-83 of this chapter.

Federal Management Regulation

§ 102-73.275

LAND

JUST COMPENSATION

§ 102-73.255 What land acquisition policy must Federal agencies follow?

Federal agencies must follow the land acquisition policy in the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act, 42 U.S.C. 4651-4655, that:

- (a) Encourages and expedites the acquisition of real property by agreements with owners;
- (b) Avoids litigation, including condemnation actions, where possible and relieves congestion in the courts;
- (c) Provides for consistent treatment of owners; and
- (d) Promotes public confidence in Federal land acquisition practices.

§ 102-73.260 What actions must Federal agencies take to facilitate land acquisition?

To facilitate land acquisition, Federal agencies must:

- (a) Obtain one appraisal on each parcel, tract, or other real property;
- (b) Pay a property owner (or occupant) or deposit payment in the registry of the court before requiring the owner to surrender the property;
- (c) Provide property owners (and occupants) at least 90-days notice of displacement before requiring anyone to move. If a Federal agency permits the owner to keep possession for a short time after acquiring the owner's property, Federal agencies must not charge rent in excess of the property's fair rental value to a short-term occupier;
- (d) Try to negotiate with owners on the price;
- (e) Appraise the real property before starting negotiations and give the owner (or the owner's representative) the opportunity to accompany the appraiser during the inspection; and
- (f) Establish an amount estimated to be the just compensation before starting negotiations and promptly offer to acquire the property for this full amount.

§ 102-73.265 Are Federal agencies required to provide the owner with a written statement of the amount established as just compensation?

Yes, Federal agencies must provide the owner with a written statement of this amount and summarize the basis for it. When it's appropriate, Federal agencies must separately state the just compensation for the property to be acquired and damages to the remaining real property.

§ 102-73.270 What specific information must be included in the summary statement for the owner that explains the basis for just compensation?

The summary statement must:

- (a) Identify the real property and the estate or interest the Federal agency is acquiring;
- (b) Identify the buildings, structures, and other improvements the Federal agency considers part of the real property for which just compensation is being offered;
- (c) State that the Federal agency based the estimate of just compensation on the Government's estimate of the property's fair market value. If only part of a property or less than a full interest is being acquired, Federal agencies must explain how they determined the just compensation for it; and
- (d) State that the Government's estimate of just compensation is at least as much as the property's approved appraisal value.

§ 102-73.275 Are Federal agencies required to compensate a property owner for the owner's buildings, structures, or other improvements that must be removed from the property being acquired?

Yes, Federal agencies must acquire at least an equal interest in all buildings, structures, or other improvements on the real property they are acquiring, including those that the Government require to be removed or those that will interfere with the proposed use of the property.
